Cybersecurity Training Certificate

If you are interested in Cybersecurity and you have computer experience, this program is for you. To determine if you qualify, please review the prerequisite requirement on our landing page <https://www.bhcc.edu/corporatetraining/cybersecuritytrainingcertificate>. You may not enroll in the program until you have submitted the required information.

There are two main courses in the program:

NON-108E “Cybersecurity: Immediate Immersion” – Thinking like an attacker and network traffic analysis

This course requires a textbook, which can be purchased at the publisher’s website. Once registered, the book may be purchased here: <https://nostarch.com/packetanalysis3>.

NON-118E Cybersecurity Defense builds on the defensive skills and experience students gained in Immediate Immersion. The twelve-week course is designed to impart a strong foundation of defensive information security skills, preparing students for entry-level careers as security operations center analysts and digital forensics analysts. Students work through six online real-life tasks in a private cloud environment with help, advice and feedback from a knowledgeable mentor and extensive online learning resources. The tasks are embedded in the realistic, but fictional, context of work as an entry-level employee of a government cyber operations agency.

This course includes the following tasks:

- Analyze a remote intrusion attempt
- A security operations center analyst has seen evidence of a password cracking attempt within a key network. Students analyze a packet capture file and event logs within a security information and event management system (the Splunk SIEM) to determine if any passwords were compromised and if the network was breached as a result.
- Investigate an incident using a SIEM
- Students analyze a possible “watering hole” attack in which clicking on a malicious link embedded in an otherwise legitimate website launches an exploit kit that infects a user’s machine with a “banking trojan.”

- Compile indicators of compromise to guide forensic analysis
- Students use a “hash” of a possible malware-containing file to conduct research using VirusTotal, online sandboxes, and open source intelligence sources to determine specific indicators of compromise to guide forensic analysis of memory and file system images of infected devices.
- Examine a compromised host’s memory
- Students perform a forensic examination of a memory image taken from a computer to identify sophisticated malware that infected the system.
- Conduct a forensic disk examination
- Students perform disk forensics on an infected system. By analyzing an image of the computer’s file system, the students are able to identify malware infections and to create a timeline for the attack.
- Close your investigation
- Students are asked to conclude their investigation by compiling a timeline for the attack and writing a comprehensive report for technical and non-technical stakeholders.

Upon successful completion of the two courses, you will separately enroll in Udemy’s 21-hour CompTIA Security course, which includes the SY0-601 exam. You will also purchase the full-length CompTIA Security+ (SY0-601) Practice Exams. Combined, your purchase of both the course and practice exams from Udemy will be about $40.00*. *Please note: Prices are subject to change and BHCC has no control of the tuition cost charged by Udemy.

Udemy is a global teaching and learning platform that provides online video courses. You must continue your learning through Udemy immediately after successfully completing your 18-week training. The program’s cybersecurity mentors will support you as you work through the Udemy course. In total, you are looking at 24 weeks, or six months, to complete the training and be ready to sit for the national exam. Once you pass the CompTIA Security exam, you will earn your industry-recognized credential. Cyber Attack and Defense:
Immediate Immersion (Six Weeks)
NON-108E

$1,599

(+ book price estimated $50)

Immediate Immersion is designed to impart initial cybersecurity skills in six weeks of study at 25 hours per week to help students determine if careers in cybersecurity are right for them. Students work through three online real-life tasks (about two weeks per task).

Cybersecurity: Immediate Immersion includes the following tasks:

- Exploit a website (and fix its vulnerabilities)
- Insider threat?
- Analyze malicious network traffic

This course requires a textbook, which can be purchased at the publisher’s website. As soon as you have registered for the course, you will buy the book: <https://nostarch.com/packetanalysis3>

Immediate Immersion students are expected to spend 15 - 25 hours per week on the course. We have a one-hour Zoom meeting each week where everyone has a chance to discuss what they are working on, ask questions, and work together on the current task.

Immediate Immersion is a mentor-driven course. Students are not expected to get by entirely on their own. A significant amount of independent study is involved, but it’s more like “assisted study.” Outside of weekly meetings, mentors regularly communicate with students on Slack and assist them as needed as they progress through the course.

BHCC ENTERPRISE CENTER FOR ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND TRAINING (ECET) – COMING IN FEBRUARY

BHCC Enterprise Center for Entrepreneurship and Training (ECET) will support residents and small diverse businesses in Chelsea, Everett and adjacent communities. The ECET will provide business guidance, assistance in multiple languages with online consultation, and workshops to address talent recruitment and innovation planning.

Small businesses make up most of the area’s economic base, but they have been devastated by COVID-19, especially the small business in communities of color. The Center will provide much needed small business guidance and assistance in multiple languages through online consultation, and workshops to address talent recruitment, career readiness, business planning and innovation planning.

The Center for Entrepreneurship evolved out of Small Business needs assessment by the Metropolitan Area Planning Council. A comprehensive analysis of the existing conditions as well as a demographic review was conducted. Based on recommendations from the assessment, BHCC will develop the center to connect and support the supply and demand cycle of the workforce. The BHCC Center for Entrepreneurship and Training is targeted to communities most acutely impacted by COVID-19 . Supporting the needs of small businesses is an essential investment for the recovery and revitalization of these communities. The ECET is designed to support diverse small businesses, laid off and underemployed community members by connecting them to training and to each other. It’s critical for small businesses to find the dedicated employees they need to recover and grow their businesses. Workshops will be tailored to small business and community needs to provide assistance with technology, online consultation, and non-credit and credit training.
